TRAIN THE TRAINER

This program of "Train the Trainer" has been designed for the professional who is interested in pursuing a career in training others in a field in which he/she is an expert. The objective of this course is to help you learn the dynamics of adult learning methodologies, identifying different learning styles, creating and designing effective teaching programs.

Train-the-Trainers are very much in demand at a wide variety of services, organizations, businesses and governments. Most trainers work as self-employed 'Independent Contractors' or 'Consultants', while others work exclusively for an employer where there is a need for training others on a regular basis.

We require that our students exhibit excellent interpersonal communication skills, organizational skills, and develop high levels of technical competence across a wide variety of disciplines.

This 8-week 'Certificate' program, consisting of 32-clock-hours of courses, can be completed through distance-learning.
